

Disclosures on Transfers of Value to Members of the Healthcare Community

Program Overview:

Our partnership and collaboration with members of the healthcare community are integral to our goal of transforming lives through science. We fully support efforts to increase transparency around interactions with members of the healthcare community globally. We comply with all applicable requirements to disclose transfers of values made to members of the healthcare community, including disclosures required under the Open Payments Program in the United States, various U.S. Laws, as well as applicable laws and regulations that are in place globally.
